THE SUNDAY-CLOSING LAW

MANY SCHEMES OF EVASION RESORTED TO IN CINCINNATI.

But Fifty-Six of the Twenty-One Hundred Saloons Remain Open in the City—How the Law Was Observed at Various Other Points in the Buckeye State.

CINCINNATI, May 1.—Sunday was as beautiful and balmy a spring day as heart could wish. Nearly all the saloons of Cincinnati were hermetically closed, and nothing could be obtained in them for love or money. Those that kept open, however, did an immense business, and the amber fluid flowed in rivers, its swift current unchecked by the prohibition of the Owen Sunday.

There were some saloons "Over the Rhine" closed. All the beer halls with the exception of Weiler's, however, were in full blast. The hill-top resorts were open as usual. Various pretexts were resorted to to evade the law.

At the Highland house all who wanted beer got it. The bottled beer bore the following label: "Highland House Ginger Ale. Strictly Pure." All who called for ginger ale got Moerlein's National export. Beer was also sold at this resort under the name of "rice cordial."

The beer halls "Over the Rhine" were crowded all day. All Cincinnati seemed to be consumed with an immense, overpowering thirst, and the way they crowded into Kissel's, Hartmann's and Schumann's and clamored for "rice cordial," which was the popular name for beer everywhere Sunday, was a sight to witness.

Of all the concert halls, the Atlantic garden was the only one where the law was strictly observed. Nothing was sold here except lemonade, ginger ale and mineral water.

Beer was openly sold at the Bellevue house, without any attempt being made to evade the law.

Richler's place near the Zoo, accommodated several thousand thirsty individuals. The saloons in Corryville were all closed. Woywod's saloon, at Elm and McMicken avenue, was wide open all day. It is said that the Christian Moerlein Brewing company will back this saloon in its violation of the Sunday law.

At Kissel's admission tickets were sold at ten cents each. Each ticket had two reserved seat coupons, which entitled the holder to a sandwich. The sandwiches were very small, and a glass of beer went with each sandwich. This dodge was also resorted to at Hartmann's.

The law was strictly observed at all the hotels.

In Cumminsville, where there are sixty-nine saloons, not one was found selling intoxicants in violation of the law.

At night there was no excitement except that the crowds were greater at the "Over-the-Rhine" resorts, if possible, than during the day. The price of admission was raised to twenty cents, but that did not seem to result in the diminution of the immense throngs. By 9 p. m. every seat in Schumann's, Kissel's and Hartmann's was taken.

A few arrests were made Sunday, but in a majority of the cases the arrests were deferred until Monday.

Coshocton.

COSHOCTON, O., May 1.—Sunday was the first Sunday that all the saloons have been closed in years. The saloonkeepers met Friday night and passed a resolution that every saloon should close promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday night and remain closed until 5 o'clock Monday morning. The saloonkeepers agreed to be fined $25 each if they should violate this resolution.

Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH, O., May 1.—The Sunday law was fairly observed. Were it not for thousands of strangers drawn by excursion rates every saloon would have been closed. Chief Lewis in person closed Doherty's saloon. It is alleged that other saloons were open. Hundreds of kegs were emptied privately. Still, the city was exceptionally quiet.

Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, O., May 1.—The Sunday closing law was pretty generally obeyed here by the saloonists. An ordinance closing the saloons on Sunday has been in force here for two or three years and the passage of the Owen bill had but little effect save to spur the police to activity.

Columbus.

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—The saloons paid no attention the Sunday closing law, and all were open which have been in the habit of doing business on Sunday.

Ironton.

IRONTON, O., May 1.—The Owen bill was respected. All saloons were closed. It was a hard day on the bums.

Given Up for Lost.

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Four missing schooners which were seen off the coast just before the great blizzard, and have not been heard of since, have been given up for lost, with their crews. These vessels are the William G. Lewis, which sailed from Newport News on February 28 for Boston; the Henry S. Culver, from Baltimore to Boston; John F. Morrow, from Baltimore to Providence; and the Rachel Collins, from Norfolk to Philadelphia. The crews numbered over fifty men, and the vessels with their cargoes were estimated to be worth over $150,000.

Sewing Machine Inventor Dead.

WATERBURY, Conn., May 1.—Allen B. Wilson, inventor and part inventor of the sewing machine, and who, with Nathaniel Wheeler, established the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine company, of Bridgeport, Conn., died Sunday afternoon in Woodmont. He was born in New York in 1827, learned the cabinet making trade, and in 1849, never having seen a sewing machine, invented one. Of late years his mind has been seriously affected.

A Horrible Crime.

CHICAGO, May 1.—While defending the honor of her thirteen-year-old stepdaughter against the fendishness of an unnatural father, Mrs. Netta Muehlberg was struck down with murderous intent by her husband, Matthew, at a late hour last night and is now dying. The wretch escaped.

LABOR ITEMS.

Notes From Strikers and Lockouts From Various Parts of the Country.

CINCINNATI, May 1.—The coopers have joined their locked-out brewery brothers. They held a special meeting at Workman's hall Sunday, when the following resolution was adopted:

"RESOLVED, by the members of Coopers' Union No. 6, That we refuse to withdraw our resolution to abstain from drinking pool beer, as demanded by the Boss Coopers' association of Cincinnati, April 28, 1888."

Henry Fuchs, president of the Boss Coopers' association, has been officially notified of the action taken by the union. All the union employees of beer coopers establishments were then told that their services were needed no longer.

The coopers work at piece work, and as fast as they finished their work in the different shops the members of the union walked out. The Knights of Labor coopers say that if non-union men are put in the places of those leaving, they will not work with them.

Glassworkers' Lockout Declared Off.

SANDWICH, Mass., May 1.—The workmen employed in the Boston & Sandwich glass works received official notice Sunday that the strikers' lockout which has been going on in all the factories of the United States since January 2, has been declared off. It is said that the manufacturers conceded the rule by regarding the employment of apprentices and the local members of the flint glass works held out for their demands. Whether the workmen conceded anything is not known. The Boston & Sandwich Glass company start up but the matter is not decided.

Did Not Start.

PITTSBURG, May 1.—The resumption of the rail and blooming departments of the Edgar Thompson steel works, did not take place as proposed by the company. The fires were started and the machinery in the rail mill was running, but no attempt was made to make rails. General Superintendent Jones stated that the mills were not quite ready to resume, but that operations would begin soon. The strikers claim that the real reason for not starting was the scarcity of skilled workmen and that the company will not be able to resume without their aid.

Want Nine Hours to Make a Day.

FALL RIVER, Mass., May 1.—The brick layers and masons of this city struck work because of a refusal by the contractors to accede to their demands for nine hours a day. The strikers are backed by the International union, and have the moral support of the Knights of Labor. It is said that the Laborers' union of this city will order a strike.

Hat Factory Shuts Down.

DANBURY, Conn., May 1.—The Tweedy Manufacturing company, the largest hat factory in America, and the oldest in this state, shut down to-day for the first time in nearly twenty years, throwing 1,100 hatters out of work. The factory will be closed until a reorganization of the company is effected.

New Haven Printers Locked Out.

NEW HAVEN, May 1.—The printers employed by the Union Printing company were locked out this morning. Their places are temporarily filled by men from the morning papers. The trouble is over the apprentice question.

A Scheme of Cincinnati Saloonists.

CINCINNATI, May 1.—A movement has been inaugurated by one hundred saloonkeepers to purchase a controlling interest in one of the largest breweries in the city. There will be 100 shares at $1,000 each. The brewery, it is claimed, will be run on strictly union principles. Eight hours will constitute a day's work, and three sets of hands will be employed. The establishment, it is declared, will be run day and night, and give work to nearly all the locked-out brewers. The saloonkeepers, who are parties to the scheme, are guaranteed the patronage of organized labor.

Won't Sell It for Any Purpose.

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 1.—Sixteen leading druggists of Davenport made a public announcement yesterday morning that they would not sell or dispense any alcoholic or intoxicating liquor for any purpose whatever. They took this step because of the troubles and trials which would arise in their business if they sold spirituous liquors. The state pharmaceutical association which meets here this week is likely to take action in the same direction.

Ten Cases of Cowhide.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 1.—Samuel Stevens, a milk dealer residing in the adjoining town of Monroe, on going to his barn yesterday morning, found that the entire flooring of his cow stables had given way during the night, and precipitated his ten cows into the opening. Nothing remained but the stanchions, to which his stock was fastened, and from these hung ten dead cows.

Lake Navigation Not Yet Opened.

MACKINAW CITY, Mich., May 1.—A cold rain fell all day yesterday and the ice has not changed. Open water can be seen around Waughashane, but from there to here it is one vast field of ice, white and solid. It is not thought that the boats can be got through for some days yet. The mercury is at 35.

Drouth in Iowa Broken.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, May 1.—The long continued drouth was broken in a degree by a refreshing rain yesterday morning and again last night. It will be of great benefit to farmers, as corn that had been planted was in great danger of withering in the ground, and pastures were almost dried up.

Bold Road Agents.

CLOVERDALE, Cal., May 1.—The Lake Port stage was robbed by two masked men Saturday, a few miles from this place. Wells, Fargo & Company's box was taken, but the amount it contained is not known. When the news was received here Constable Abe Criger and Samuel Allen started in pursuit of the robbers, and overtook them in the mountains at a point known as Profile Rock. The robbers were ordered to surrender, but one of them raised his rifle and fired, shooting Criger through the heart, killing him instantly. Allen returned the fire, but both robbers slid down a high precipice and escaped. A posse is out after them.

CHIEF JUSTICE FULLER.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The president sent to the senate the nomination of Melville W. Fuller, of Illinois, to be chief justice of the United States.

Melville W. Fuller is a native of the state of Maine. He is in his fifty-fifth year, a graduate of Bowdoin college, has never filled nor sought an office, and is a recognized leader of the Chicago bar, and has held a high place in the councils of the Democratic party.

Early in the administration of Mr. Cleveland, he was tendered the solicitor generalship, and subsequently positions on the civil service commission, interstate commerce commission and Pacific railroad commission, all of which he declined. He has been held in the highest regard by the president and has been generally indorsed by western Democrats. In personal appearance, Mr. Fuller is unusually handsome, his hair and his mustache are silvery and his feature clear cut and intelligent. In stature, he is short and slight, compared with his future associates on the supreme bench.

Mr. Fuller is a man of high scholastic as well as legal attainments, and as an orator his talents have won him the title of the Chaucer of the West. In politics he is best described as an old school Democrat. He was loyal in feeling during the war; is a believer in an advanced doctrine of states' rights, and an advocate of simple government. He is a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, and has been prominently identified with that organization, and conspicuous in the Cheney and other famous ecclesiastical trials. He is well known in Washington as a practitioner before the supreme court.

When the nomination of Melville W. Fuller as chief justice of the United States, reached the senate, by a singular coincidence, Minister Phelps and Senator Gray were sitting together on one of the sofas. The nomination was immediately made the subject of general whispered conversation, and as far as could be ascertained, the comment was entirely favorable to the selection from every standpoint. Mr. Fuller's qualifications and fitness being recognized on the Republican side of the chamber, while the political wisdom of the appointment is conceded by the Democrats who opposed the selection of Minister Phelps.

Postoffice Statistics.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The postmaster general sent to the senate in response to a resolution, calling for the information to be used in considering Mr. Paddock's bill providing for postoffices having gross receipts amounting to $3,000 a year, a statement showing the offices the incomes from which have exceeded that amount, and the amount of rent paid by the government for the accommodation of such postoffices.

It shows that in Alabama there are fourteen of such offices; in Arizona, 4; Arkansas, 10; California, 48; Colorado, 22; Connecticut, 58; Dakota, 26; Delaware, 4; Washington, 1; Florida, 13; Georgia, 20; Idaho, 2; Illinois, 111; Indiana, 62; Iowa, 84; Kansas, 76; Kentucky, 25; Louisiana, 6; Maine, 23; Maryland, 11; Massachusetts, 102; Michigan, 70; Minnesota, 28; Mississippi, 12; Missouri, 41; Montana, 10; Nebraska, 36; Nevada, 4; New Hampshire, 21; New Jersey, 53; New Mexico, 6; New York, 157; North Carolina, 16; Ohio, 102; Oregon, 10; Pennsylvania, 119; Rhode Island, 10; South Carolina, 10; Tennessee, 10; Texas, 49; Utah, 3; Vermont, 20; Virginia, 26; Washington Territory, 9; West Virginia, 9; Wyoming, 4.

Mr. Mason's Coal Mining Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—By request Mr. Mason of Illinois, introduced a bill in the house establishing co-operative coal mining associations. It creates a permanent National board of coal mine commissioners, composed of five men of various political creeds and diversified professions, who shall serve terms of five years each, and who shall have control of all anthracite coal mines by purchase or condemnation, under the eminent domain laws of the United States, and the mines shall be owned and leased by the United States to such persons and on such terms as the board shall agree, and "for the purpose of stimulating industry, removing discontent and strikes and abolishing corporate greed and unjust oppression, regulating the cost of one of the most staple articles necessary for the comfort of the people, to elevate labor, the commissioners shall operate all of the mines on the co-operative basis."

The bill is very lengthy and gives the details of operating the mines in every respect.

To Increase the Silver Coinage.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, in the senate introduced a bill to increase the monthly coinage of silver to $3,000,000.

Fought for a Cowboy Lover.

SAN MARCIAL, N. M., May 1.—Mary Lemore and Sarah Ballou, two Mormon girls, fought a duel with pistols about a cowboy named Whitman, with whom both were in love. The Ballou girl was seriously wounded.

Kicked on Being Clubbed.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 1.—German Goodrich, a hostler, attempted to coerce a refractory horse with a club Sunday, and the animal kicked him in the head, fracturing his skull so that the brain protruded. He will die.

Hottest Day in Years.

BALTIMORE, May 1.—The people of Baltimore sweltered under a scorching sun, Saturday. It was the hottest April day in this city for eighteen years, the thermometer registering 90 degrees.

Ella Wittenburg, shot by her jealous lover, Ed Chamberlain, at Delphi, Ind., is dead. Ed would have been dead also but for Sheriff Van Gundy, who spirited him away to the Lafayette jail before the angry mob could reach him.

Disaster in a Mine.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 1.—A fearful explosion occurred in mine No. 4, of the Delaware & Hudson company, at Plymouth at 5 p. m. Saturday evening. Patrick McGill and J. Kneiss, miners, were instantly killed. Charles O'Connor, a laborer, was so badly burned that his life is despaired of, both eyes being destroyed and his head and body frightfully roasted; Joseph Halloran and William James were badly injured, but will live. The dead men leave large families in destitute circumstances.

A Mill Boiler Explodes.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., May 1.—The tile mill of William Caldwell exploded at 9 a. m., wounding William Caldwell, N. E. Conde and Joseph Lakin fatally, Allen Lakin and Alonzo Pea seriously, and three others slightly. The mill had not been run for six months. The cause of accident lay in the fact that the boiler had rusted out. William Caldwell died at 10 a. m., and F. E. Conde died at noon.

Death From a Cotton Seed.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., May 1.—Some two months ago a little daughter of Van Parker, a farmer, living north of here, sucked a cotton seed into her lungs, but as she did not suffer, nothing was thought of it until she was taken ill a week ago in a most singular manner. She rapidly grew worse, and died in great agony Saturday.

THE Brown County Democracy favors Cleveland and Gray for the next National ticket. Gray seems to be the coming man for Vice President.

THE Democracy of Harrison County will be called upon to select another candidate for Deputy Sheriff, death having removed their nominee, Captain L. Furnish.

THE Republican State convention which meets at Louisville to-morrow will endorse Bradley for Vice President, notwithstanding Colonel Swope's newspaper cards.

THE long list of Congressmen—about one hundred—put down for a speech on the tariff question ought to be able to thoroughly post the public on every feature of the subject.

MADISON COUNTY has voted a big subscription to the Louisville Southern Railroad by a majority about 700. The Southern is making rapid strides for the mineral and timber sections of Kentucky, and promises to get there about as soon as any of her neighbors.

IF the Institute for the Feeble-minded has proved a failure, the sooner it is abolished the better. To convert it into an asylum for female lunatics is no doubt the best disposition that could be made of it, as the other lunatic asylums in the State are all crowded.

THE South is fast becoming not only the "garden spot" but the manufacturing center of America. The Republican carpet-bag governments down there are a thing of the past, and the raving and ranting of some Republican papers over elections in Louisiana and other Southern States will not change things at all.

IF Kentucky isn't well supplied with railroads by and by it will not be the people's fault. They manifest a very liberal disposition towards such enterprises, and rarely ever fail to vote all the aid asked. By a majority of 800, Owensboro has subscribed $75,000 to help build a road from that city to the Falls of Rough.

THE Pinkerton's say they can lay their hands on Tate, the defaulter, any day they wish to, but they claim there is a "weakness" in the reward by the State. They don't want to land "Uncle Dick" at Frankfort and then have the courts compel them to escort him back to the place they found him. If there is any defect in that reward the Legislature should correct it before it adjourns.

"FRIEND BOB: Please give the very best regards of the entire firm to Governor Buckner and tell him that the whole city of Louisville is for him and with him. Tell him that father and myself are Republicans but that we believe implicitly in him and think he is undoubtedly the best and grandest Governor the State has ever had, and we only wish he was a good Rad."

THE above clipping is from a letter written by a Louisville man to a member of the Legislature. Republicans as well as Democrats seem to be in love with Governor Buckner. He has captured the people irrespective of party affiliations by the honest, sensible and straightforward manner in which he is discharging his duties.

An Egg Problem.
The New York Tribune, which printed the egg problem, "if a hen and a half lay an egg and a half in a day and a half, how many eggs will six hens lay in seven days?" gives the following technical solution:

"The phrase 'a hen and a half lay an egg and a half in a day and a half' is equivalent to 'one hen lays one egg.' Now, if one hen lays one egg in a day and a half, six hens would lay six eggs in the same period. There are only four periods of a day and a half in seven days, consequently the number of eggs the six hens will lay in seven days is four times six (the number in one period of a day and a half), or twenty-four eggs. On the seventh or odd day the hens lay nothing, because by the problem they can not lay under a day and a half."

Personal.
Mrs. James Cullen has returned from a visit at Newport.

Mrs. Ben Bowman, of Newport, is in town visiting relatives.

Thomas Wood, of Sharpsburg, is visiting J. Fletcher Grimes.

Most Excellent.
J. J. Atkins, Chief of Police, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: "My family and I are beneficiaries of your most excellent medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; having found it to be all that you claim for it, desire to testify to its virtue. My friends to whom I have recommended it, praise it at every opportunity."

Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption is guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, croup and every affection of throat, chest and lungs. Trial bottles free (Large size $1.00) at the Drug Stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.

INVESTIGATE AND LEGISLATE.

Proceedings of the State Solons of Local and General Interest.

The Senate has passed the House bill incorporating the Mill Creek and Choctaw Turnpike Road Company.

The Senate has concurred in the House amendment to the bill relating to injury done by trespassing stock in this county. The bill incorporating the Deposit Bank of Pearce, Fant Co., of Flemingsburg, has passed both houses.

A bill has passed authorizing the presiding judge of the Nicholas County Court to make appropriations on behalf of the county to aid in the construction of bridges in said county.

The bills to increase the salaries of the State Treasurer and the Secretary of State were defeated.

Senator Peterman's bill appropriating $6,000 to rebuild the county buildings of Monroe, which were destroyed by fire, passed by a vote of 20 against 7.

The report of the committee which investigated the Feeble-minded Institute discloses that irregularities in the management of the steward's department of the institute were discovered, but there was nothing in them smacking of fraud. It recommended that the institute be converted into an insane asylum for females. As a feeble-minded institute it is pronounced a failure. Of about 160 inmates but five are turned out annually as self-supporting. The cost per capita to the State is $220. The services of Dr. Stewart, the Superintendent, and his wife are highly commended, and they are recommended as being eminently fitted to manage the insane asylum in contemplation. Accompanying the report were two bills. One repeals the law creating the Feeble-minded Institute, and the other proposes to create the Frankfort Female Lunatic Asylum.

The bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes to persons under eighteen years of age will probably pass.

The bill authorizing the Mayslick and Flat Fork Turnpike Companies to extend their lines to certain places has been passed.

A bill has been passed creating and regulating the office of Treasurer of Nicholas County.

The Senate and House have passed the bill to create a new State Board of Equalization. The bill provides for one member from each Appellate District, to be appointed by the Governor; these persons, together with the Auditor, constitute the board, which is to equalize assessments of real and personal property in the State, upon a basis of sixty-nine per cent. of cash value.

Stock, Field and Farm.
The Millersburg correspondent of the Bourbon News says: "Tobacco men are nearly all sowing their plant beds the second time—the first sowing being a failure."

Tobacco men of Louisville report that complaints are pouring in from all over the State to the effect that burley seed has failed to sprout, and that there is an almost universal scarcity of plants.

Remarks on the fruit crop are mere guesses, but from what we can learn, (and we have asked a goodly number) there will be an average crop, unless killed later on.—Carlisle Mercury.

It never gets too cold for a cut worm to put on its ear muffs and arctic over-shoes and go out to interview a crop of young tomato plants. The worm always gets there a little ahead of the frost.—Bourbon News.

A good deal of the tobacco seed sown early has failed to grow. Some of it, it is said, was injured before planting by being kept in tightly corked bottles. The seed fermented and destroyed the germs.—Flemingsburg True Blue Democrat.

The splendid stallion, Enterprise, belonging to J. W. Fitzgerald, of Maysville, created a decided sensation here court day. He was the observed of all observers at Fleming's stable and on the show grounds.—Fleming True Blue Democrat.

The Carlisle Mercury adds its complaint about the tobacco plants. It says: "We are reliably informed that only about one-third of the tobacco seed sown in this section came up, and a prominent tobacco raiser of Bath gives it as his opinion that plants will be scarce in his section."

It seems that the Louisville and Cincinnati tobacco warehousemen took prudent steps to prevent an over production of the weed this season. They sent out "select seed" to the farmers "free, gratis, for nothing," and now the gentle grangers complain that the seed had been scalded, and consequently have produced no plants.

The Dover News says: "It was thought that the fruit was killed by the recent cold snap, but it is found to be in good condition up to this time, and an abundant crop is anticipated in and adjacent to Dover. The tobacco plants in this section have been very much retarded by the cold weather, and will probably be scarce when the time comes for setting out."

A special from Owensville says that there has been a failure in tobacco plants in that section, and that there will not be enough to plant one-fourth of a crop. Some attribute the failure to the warehousemen scalding the seeds to reduce the crop, while others attribute it to a fly as small as a flea. Many are going to plant corn in their ground prepared for tobacco. The Western Tobacco Journal also reports the same from many sections.

READ THIS.—H. Ayers Jackson has invented and patented a new scientific and certain method for cutting garments for either ladies or gentlemen, to fit the form.

The human bust is a truncated cone, each one varying in its peculiar outline, with a series of constant changes, no two measuring exactly alike. Hence to make a perfectly fitting garment, it must be made to conform to the outline of the form whatever that may be. This can not be done by a chart, nor can it be done by guess. The sensible, scientific way is to take an accurate measurement of the form, plat the measurement on paper, cut it out and reduce it to outline on the cloth straight on the goods which can then be cut, allowing for seams. This system is based upon practical, scientific principles, and when measures are carefully taken the garment can be cut and made to fit exactly without trying it on. This system is equally exact and certain in fitting sleeves.

Miss Sue Berry is the authorized agent for this, the Franko-Prussian, system for measuring, cutting and teaching to measure and cut garments for either ladies or gentlemen, and she refers to Mrs. Judge Phister, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. T. J. Pickett, Mrs. Robert Ficklin, Mrs. Wm. Smoot, Mrs. Scudder, of Elizaville, Mrs. F. B. Ranson and others for whom she has cut garments by this system. For further information apply to her.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

WASHINGTON.
Miss Lottie Berry, of Cincinnati, is visiting Miss Addie Collins.

Miss Chloe Powers, of Maysville, visited the Misses Allison the past week.

Miss Tillie Chambers, after an absence of several weeks at Paris, has returned home.

Rev. Mr. Duncan, a licentiate of Ebenezer Presbyterian, preached at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Geo. R. Humphreys is spending a few days at his old home near Lewisburg.

It is rumored that a young merchant of Kansas is soon to be married to the daughter of one of Maysville's fairest daughters.

It is strange that the Legislature does not act on the extensive petition to give the county a chance to vote on the Prohibition question, which was sent up in the beginning of the session. Perhaps Maysville can account for the delay.

The select school of Miss Mary Chambers will close this week.

Hon. J. W. McClung, of St. Paul, an old resident of this place, spent several days this week in visiting friends and relatives near here.

Remained for a Maysville man to inaugurate the good work of wedding the whisky men out of the churches in Louisville. All honor to Elder Powell!

Corn planting about over.

Big meeting at the Christian Church still in progress.

Elder Stafford went home Monday.

Will Marsh lost a fine colt last week.

Miss Maggie Malby, of Maysville, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Miss Sude McNutt, of Maysville, is visiting the family of T. K. Proctor.

Miss Ida Brooks, of Springdale, attended church Sunday. She is visiting Miss Jessie Kerr, of Jersey Ridge.

Miss May Proctor returned from Maysville Saturday, after spending two weeks with friends and relatives there.

Thomas Kerr, of Jersey Ridge, attended church here Sunday, the first time in five years.

We are informed that tobacco plants are suffering badly on account of dry weather, and that some beds are past redemption already.

There will be services all this week at the Christian Church. Three persons have united, and the interest is increasing.

A nice young lady is visiting in this vicinity who is developing into a first-class medium. The tables and chairs tip and dance under her magical powers and much merriment is enjoyed by the young folks who witness her performances.

A petition is being circulated among the citizens of this place, which is signed by nearly all, to ask the County Judge not to grant license to any one to sell intoxicating liquors. A saloon is certainly no advantage to any community and only leads to counteract the good that is being done by the churches. Solomon says: "One sinner destroys much good."

GERMANTOWN.
V. O. Pinckard, of Cincinnati, spent several days with relatives and friends.

James Thompson, of Falmouth, spent last week with his father.

Sunday being the fifth Sunday our town was without preaching, but a large attendance at the Sabbath schools showed that our young people were not left entirely at the mercy of the wicked one.

Phil Knedler, a young but very promising solicitor for his father's popular house at Augusta, made his debut in town last week, making a fine impression and receiving a fine list of patronage.

THAT PARADE AND DRILL.

Both Will Come Off Wednesday, the First Day of the Annual Conclave to be Held Next Week.

All the public demonstrations by the Knights Templar during their annual conclave in this city next week will take place Wednesday, (the ninth instant). The parade will come off in the forenoon and the drill at the fair grounds in the afternoon. This statement is made to correct a misunderstanding on the subject. Thursday, the second day, will be devoted to the transaction of the secret work of the conclave. The parade and drill promises to be much grander than anything of the kind ever witnessed in this city. Delegations from twenty-three Commanderies in this State and from several in Ohio are expected to take part in the parade. Six bands will furnish music for the occasion. The First Regiment Band, of Cincinnati, the finest in the "Queen City," will be on hand. Louisville's, Lexington's and Maysville's crack bands are also among the number that will participate.

The drill at the fair grounds in the afternoon of Wednesday will surpass anything of the kind ever seen in this section. Eight different views will be thrown upon the canvas, accompanied by a graphic description including all the points of interest and ancient legends connected with the lakes. Every poet and historian who has attempted a description of this spot has concluded his effort with the remark that no pen is equal to the task. Moore's melody, "Kate Kearney," will be sung by the quartet.

"Beautiful Erin."

One of the views that will be presented at the opera house on May 3, represents a tourist in the act of "Kissing the Blarney Stone." As the legend goes the simple act of kissing this famous stone, bestows the gift of ready speech and quick retort. Professor Corcoran in his lecture explains the real meaning of the term "blarney," and how it originated. He variously defines it as civil courage, prying into one's secrets without apparent intrusion, the power of flattering modesty, &c. He traces its origin to an Irish Lord, who when called upon by the English General to swear fealty and surrender his castle, by glibness of tongue made him believe that the castle was surrendered and that fealty was sworn, when in fact neither had been done.

GARROTED AT MADRID.

THE FIRST TRIPLE EXECUTION IN SPAIN IN FIVE YEARS.

A Girl, Her Lover and Their Accomplice the Victims—Berlin News—The Pope's Decree Condemned—Battle in an Egyptian Mosque—French Duel—Foreign.

LONDON, May 1.—The Spanish newspapers are not allowed to publish reports of executions, but a correspondent at Madrid sends the details of the first triple execution in that country in five years. The unfortunate creatures were a woman of eighteen, her lover, aged twenty-one, and a man of twenty-five. The girl and her lover had ensnared a man, robbed him, and then committed murder in order to prevent exposure. The third man was convicted as an accomplice.

The queen was very anxious to pardon the convicts, but the government declined to interfere on account of the peculiar atrocity of the crime. The scaffold was built inside of the prison wall, but at such a height that the public could not see it, although 20,000 people, mostly women, waited outside of the walls. The garrote was the instrument of death employed, and all three were executed upon the same platform.

In accordance with Spanish custom the condemned for twenty-four hours prior to the execution were kept in the prison chapel and ministered to by priests, while the prison officials endeavored to cheer them and supplied them liberally with wine. Several harrowing scenes occurred between the girl and her lover, both becoming so violent and hysterical when the time came for pinioning their hands and feet that the cords were forcibly adjusted by six wardens. After the execution the bodies remained in full view watched by members of a religious brotherhood until sunset, when they were buried in the prison yard.

Sounds From Berlin.

BERLIN, May 1.—The emperor passed a quiet night Sunday night. His fever has almost entirely subsided. His condition is unchanged.

Empress Augusta Sunday gave an audience to Prince Bismarck.

On Friday Prince Bismarck went to visit the Historian Von Sybel, but not finding him at home, left at his house a note which was as follows: "I beg you to accept my cordial congratulations and thanks for your co-operation for so many years in our common patriotic work."

It is reported that the emperor's physicians are considering the advisability of issuing bulletins only on alternate days.

The Cologne Gazette has been compelled to publish another letter from Dr. Mackenzie, in which he declares that its statement that the emperor were an unsuitable tube for eighteen hours is utterly false.

Discussing the Decree.

DUBLIN, May 1.—Mr. John Dillon and Lord Mayor Sexton decline to express any opinions concerning the pope's decree against the plan of campaign until they shall see the document.

Commoner Lane, in a speech at Youghall, declared that the pope's action, if he had really issued the decree, to be entirely unwarranted and untenable. Commoners Clancy, Redmond and Kenny, addressing meetings, advised their hearers to await the text of the decree before taking action.

Father O'Reilly addressing his flock at Inchicore urged them to pay no attention to the reports in circulation concerning the decree. When Archbishop Walsh returned from Rome, he said, he would make their consciences easy.

The Queen's Visit.

LONDON, May 1.—The virtual necessity of Queen Victoria's visit to Berlin was regretted here and it must be confessed that there was some anxiety concerning the manner in which the populace of the German capital would receive her. To the English mind, foreigners, as the English complacently term all other people, are erratic and irresponsible beings, whose civilization is but superficial, and who is short, in the tersest form of depreciation are un-English. But German crowds are good natured in the main and the English sovereign ran no danger of being treated impolitely by the curious throng.

The Pope's Decree Discussed.

LONDON, May 1.—A meeting of English and Irish leaders of the Liberal and Nationalist parties of parliament was held at Aldershot at which the pope's decree against the plan of campaign and boycotting in Ireland was discussed. The decree was strongly condemned and it was resolved to found a Home Rule branch of the National league which should contribute nothing to Peter's pence.

Battle Near Alexandria, Egypt.

ALEXANDRIA, May 1.—Sunday a party of escaped prisoners took possession of a mosque in Dananhour, near this city. The police surrounded the mosque and a desperate conflict ensued. Sixteen convicts were killed and two wounded. The police lost four men killed and wounded.

Sexton's Election Declared Valid.

DUBLIN, May 1.—The election of Mr. T. Sexton, member of parliament, to the office of lord mayor has been declared valid by the unanimous vote of the judges of the court of queen's bench.

Dr. Bergman Retires.

BERLIN, May 1.—Dr. Bergman has retired from attendance upon the emperor. His place is filled by Dr. Bardelbend, director of the department of clinical surgery at the charity hospital.

Duelists Arrested.

PARIS, May 1.—M. Habert, who killed M. Dubuis in a duel Sunday, and the four seconds have been arrested.

Pacific Steamer Reported Lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Great excitement prevails here over dispatches received from San Luis Obispo stating that the steamer Queen of the Pacific, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's line, plying between San Francisco and the southern coast ports, sunk near Port Harford. No particulars have yet been received.

Heavy Earthquake in California.

BIGGS, Cal., May 1.—The heaviest earthquake shock ever experienced here occurred Friday evening, lasting seventy-five seconds. The vibrations were from east to west.

DETECTIVE JOHN T. NORRIS

Writes a Letter Stating That He Thinks "Blinky" Morgan Innocent.

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Detective Norris has written a letter to "Blinky" Morgan, in which he says that he (Norris) will protest against the payment of the $16,000 reward offered for the conviction of the murderers of Detective Hurligan, on the ground that the right men have not been arrested. Norris writes "Blinky" that he has been working on the case, and is satisfied that the men engaged in the Ravenna rescue have not been arrested. He claims to have evidence that will acquit Morgan and Robinson, and thinks he can put his hands on the men who committed the crime.

SUICIDED IN HIS PULPIT.

The Insane Act of Minister Hermance, of White Plains, New York.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Rev. Edgar L. Hermance shot himself dead in the pulpit of his Presbyterian church at White Plains, Sunday. He had occupied the pulpit eighteen years, and had lately resigned on account of not receiving the salary he desired. The suicide occurred after the church service, and no one was present but Mrs. Hermance, who was in the adjoining room teaching one of the classes in the Sunday school. She is a daughter of ex-President Woolsey, of Yale college.

Mr. Hermance was fifty-five years of age. He leaves three children. It is thought that he was insane. He had made many requests for increase of salary, and finally his resignation had been asked for, and he tendered it. He was thought to be in comfortable circumstances, and at one time had engaged in a commercial business, but failed, and re-entered the pulpit.

Little Boy Charged With Manslaughter.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 1.—Ed. Deewester, a twelve-year-old boy, is locked up in this city on a charge of manslaughter in the second degree. Last Tuesday evening several children were playing in the vicinity of Mr. M. Foster's residence, near Ninth and McGee streets. Two little girls, daughters of Mr. Foster, were on the porch, and a number of boys were annoying them. The girls retaliated by throwing pitchers of water at the boys, and the result was a volley of stones fired by the ruffians. One of the stones struck Althea Foster, aged ten, in the head, and she died to-day from inflammation of the brain, caused by the wound.
